
 5th INTERNATIONAL TI-MEETING IN WIESBADEN, GERMANY. 29 SEPTEMBER 1990 **

All Users, Freak and Lovers of the Home Computer from Texas Instruments

In continuation of tradition, the International meeting of TI Users will be hosted by the TI-Workshop Wiesbaden. The TI-Workshop Wiesbaden invites you to attend this event on 28-30 September 1990 at Burgerhaus located in Wiesbaden-Erbenheim, Germany (see P-10, "Mehrzweckhalle", on City Map). It will begin on Friday at 4:00 PM and continue until Sunday between 12:00 AM and 4:00 PM, depending on interest and participation. The official part will begin on Saturday from 10:00 PM to 6:00 PM with introductions and visitor traffic. Limited sleeping arrangement can be provided at the Burgerhaus at no cost with advance reservations and you providing your own sleeping bag! A list of local hotels and a city map will be provided if requested and reservations can be made if you notify us.

Please consider: Wiesbaden is a resort area, some of the finest hot springs in Germany. Make your reservations early.

The TI celebrates its 10th Year in Germany. Because of this, during the meeting a special exhibit will be about the history of our little calculator. We would like to request that everyone look in their attics and closets to see if they have one of those rare software and hardware items that you would like to share with us. That means beginning by the rare modules (TestTrainer with manual and Software, E.T., Plato Interpreter with software and just about anything else). Homemade hardware of all kinds (Cards for the P-Box, GRAM-Modules, etc.) up to the rare Original TI Hard and Software (TI-99/8, HEX-Bus Interface, CC-40, TI-GRAM Card, TI-99/2 and much more).

Also Hard and Software from Third-Party manufacturers such as MBX-Speech, Atronic Interface cards and Disk controllers. Simply everything that has been developed by TI and its users.

If you own something of interest please feel free to share it with us so our exhibit can be more complete. All shipping cost and protection of your items will be provided.

Buying and selling of Hardware and Software (only Original!!) will be possible during the Meeting. There will also be Demonstration of new products.

A special discussion of all users will be at 6:00 PM Saturday of the events of the meeting and users, planning for next years meeting and other important items about the TI.

Please distribute this information as widely as possible so others may visit our Fair.
