NEW

NOW YOUR PRINTER BECOMES — A PRINT SHOP! —

(You Asked For It!)

NEW

Add up to 17 type styles to your printer including, Roman, Old English, Greek and many many more. This interface will triple the value of your printer: Just plug in, easy to use.

StyleWriter makes your dot matrix printer perform like an expensive letter quality printer. Connecting the small StyleWriter unit between your computer and the printer lets you print letter quality documents with multiple tpestyles and sizes.

StyleWriter is an 8085 processor and self-contained ROM-based software. StyleWriter works by intercepting the ASCII coded text sent by any computer program and converting it into a more sophisticated graphic representation before sending it on to your printer. The result is a totally transparent interface which quickly generates high quality text in a variety of tpestyles. What's more, StyleWriter gives you an unparalleled degree of control over the text you print-whether it be individual characters or entire reports. Now you can control margins and even print double underlines and "Inverse" characters with any word processor, text editor, DBMS, spreadsheet, or accounting program! No other product lets you be so expressive!

Ordinary print-control software is slow and confusing to use: first, you must save your document, then load the print software, reload your word processing program, recall your document, and finally, set the fonts before printing. Then you wait because ordinary software ties up your computer for prolonged periods of time while the documents are printing. StyleWriter eliminates these problems by providing up to 128K of print buffer so it can hold and process up to 65 average pages of text while you get back to work.

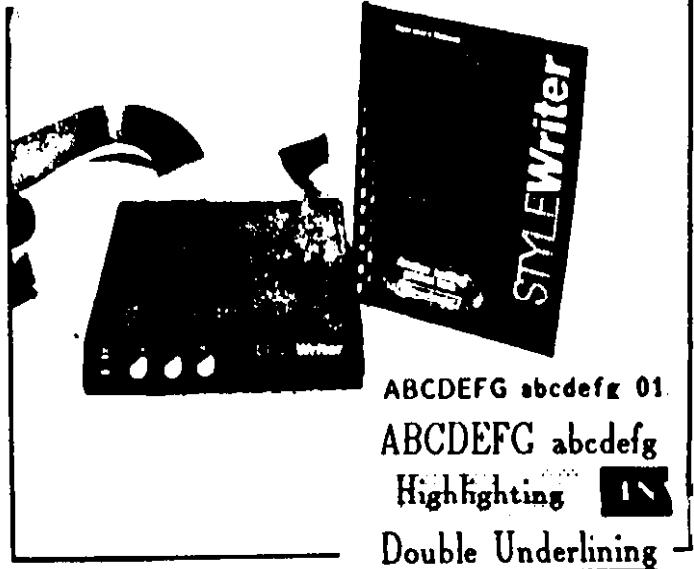

StyleWriter comes with three tpestyles, and additional styles can be added simply by inserting them into the unit and selecting them from the keyboard. The following are some of the tpestyles available:

- |                             |                         |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------|
| ROMAN (6-14pt)              | CENTURY ITALIC (6-12pt) |
| ROMAN BOLD (6-14pt)         | ELAN (10-14pt)          |
| ROMAN ITALIC (6-14pt)       | OLDE ENGLISH (10-16pt)  |
| SANS SERIF (6-12pt)         | INVITATION (18pt)       |
| SANS SERIF BOLD(6-12pt)     | COURIER (10pt)          |
| SANS SERIF ITALICS (6-12pt) | PRESTIGE (8pt)          |
| CENTURY (6-12pt)            | ITALICS (6-12pt)        |
| CENTURY BOLD (6-12pt)       | JAZZY (14pt)            |
|                             | GREEK (18pt)            |

The print quality is truly remarkable, and you can change from draft mode to letter quality and back again at the flip of a switch.

JAPANESE KATAKANA - outline of program

This program converts your console into a KATAKANA typewriter and writes on the screen. You may write your own message and save them on cassette or disk. If a speech synthesizer is connected, you can listen to a realistic reading of the KATAKANA symbols. In addition to these features, there is a reference screen that shows the entire "alphabet" (or syllabary). It too has a speech option to familiarize you with the authentic sounds of Japanese phonetics. Other screens give you a number of Japanese and English words and phrases, along with their accepted KANA symbols and the speech option too!

(Using an English-Japanese dictionary along with the program can help you to learn the language! You can even correspond with friends who read KATAKANA or who know Japanese.)

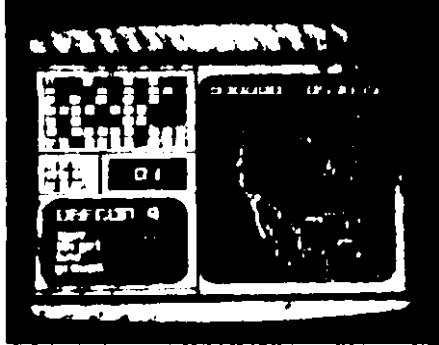

The author has used vivid color graphics and traditional Japanese music to provide a sense of oriental ambience. He would appreciate any comments on the use of or improvements to the program.

You can't just stay in the air though, you have to land to steal fuel, ammunition, and to fill sand bags. This game requires strategy, patience, and a measure of good luck.
